

DeGuelle Glass

Renowned as “The Glassiest Place in Town,” DeGuelle Glass Co. marks a milestone in 2007 as it celebrates 45 years of providing glass and mirrored products to our coastal city and the surrounding communities of Fountain Valley, Costa Mesa, Sunset Beach, Seal Beach, Newport Beach, Corona del Mar and Westminster.

A fixture in Huntington Beach’s business landscape since 1962, De Guelle Glass Co. has built and maintained a reputation of quality, service and integrity over the years. Originally opened by Jim DeGuelle and his sons, the company provided a burgeoning building industry with windows, wardrobe doors, wet bars and more. Over the years, the scope of services and products evolved to include mirrored glass for interior walls and polished and beveled glass for table tops.

In 1988, Barbara Haynes joined the family-run company, where she figured cost estimates and worked closely with customers and suppliers for the subsequent nine years to hone her skills in all aspects of the operation. So when the DeGuelle family was ready to turn over the reins, it made perfect sense to sell the business to Barbara and her husband, Michael.

Since that time, the Hayneses have honored the original owner’s company culture and philosophy and even kept the DeGuelle name.

“When we bought the company, Jim DeGuelle said that it’s still a family-run business, it’s just a different family,” says Michael.

Today, DeGuelle Glass features an extensive selection of glass products – from windows and wardrobe doors to shower enclosures and unique patterns of glass and mirrors – all expertly installed by DeGuelle Glass’ own company crews. DeGuelle provides free estimates and customers can view samples of their offerings at their showroom.

“My mother went to high school with Tom DeGuelle, so I’m very familiar with DeGuelle Glass Co.,” says Lee Marston, building contractor and owner of Lee B. Marston Construction Inc. “After Barbara and Mike purchased the company, the level of service improved and it was excellent to begin with. I do all of my glass with them and would highly recommend their service.”

Rick Ganulin, a longtime resident of Huntington Beach who moved to Tustin Ranch a year ago, echoes Marston's sentiment.

"DeGuelle Glass installed modern, half-inch seamless glass shower doors in our Huntington Beach home before we sold it," he says. "We were so pleased by the quality of their product and level of customer service that we called on them again when we moved into our new home. DeGuelle Glass distinguishes itself by the personal attention of its owners and employees, excellent workmanship and the sophistication of being a company that's been around for a very long time."

Commitment to community

Perhaps one of the reasons why Barbara, Mike and their "family" of long-time employees service their customers so well is their level of involvement and commitment to the community.

Barbara holds a board position as chair of a national industry organization known as America's Glass Association, while Michael's local affiliations include membership in the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, the Masonic Lodge and the Huntington Beach Kiwanis Club.

"Huntington Beach is not a city - it's a community," says Barbara. "We love living here and particularly enjoy the sense of camaraderie of working with customers who are our neighbors and friends."
